Pre-Alumni Club Travels to New Orleans for UNCF Conference:

A Student's Perspective

By: LaKendric Williams

As my tenure as a student of Rust College comes to a close, I must say that I am very pleased with all of the wonderful opportunities that God has blessed me with. During the week of February 3rd through the 7th, the Rust College Pre-Alumni Council and I traveled to a city that five years ago, was left devastated by a natural disaster, known as Hurricane Katrina. New Orleans, Louisiana was the host of this year's 64th Annual National Alumni Council/52nd National Pre-Alumni Council United Negro College Fund Conference.

Miss UNCF Rust College Cecelia Smith with Dr. David L. Beckley.

With this being my fourth and final conference as a “Pre-Alumni” I feel as though I gained a plethora of information that would be of some great benefit to me as I seek to advance within the world of academia (graduate school). Through the many seminars and panel discussions, the opportunity to network with celebrities, corporate executives, and students from other partnering historically black colleges and universities were in abundance. However, I only wish that more students from Rust College would seize this great opportunity that they are granted each year.

It was through this prestigious organization that I have experienced a lot of growth as I've held both the positions of Chaplain and Vice-President. I would encourage any student of Rust College to join and take part in the annual conference, because not only will you acquire the opportunity to attend different seminars, but most importantly some will walk away with life-long strategic relationships with people from around the world.

L to R: Stefen White, Charlando Simpson, Ms. Patricia Willis—Asst. Director of Alumni Development, Kimberly Woods, Antonio Leigh—Mr. Pre-Alumni, Cecelia Smith—Miss Pre-Alumni, Dr. David L. Beckley—President, Braque Talley, Mrs. Shirley Dillard—Director of Alumni Development, Vontari Rogers, and Fredrica Moody

Freshmen Sell “Hearts for Haiti”

The freshmen class has joined the millions of people around the world who are raising money to help the victims of the magnitude 7.0 earthquake that hit Haiti in January.

Students and employees can purchase a “Heart for Haiti” during lunchtime, in the cafeteria, now through the end of February. The hearts are $1.00 and all the proceeds will be sent to help the victims of the earthquake.

The “Hearts for Haiti” campaign is running in addition to the Rust College Haitian Relief Fund, which as of February 10, has netted more than $1,600.

Friday, February 12 will mark one month since the deadly quake struck the small country. Rescuers are still searching for and recovering victims, removing debris, and bringing supplies to survivors.

Members of the freshmen class are selling “Hearts for Haiti”. The money raised will be sent to Haiti to help in the earthquake relief efforts.
