The Home Depot “Retooll Your School” Project:
Vote to Support Rust College!

“America’s Historically Black Colleges and Universities have given so much to so many. Now, The Home Depot wants to show its gratitude by giving something back.”

Vote for major and minor projects proposed by and for Rust College.

“Major” Project
Eighty percent of Rust College students and faculty members strongly agree that the improvements to the Pedagogy laboratory will enhance teaching and learning by 25%. The lasting improvements caused by the Home Depot “Retooll Your School” Project has the potential to benefit the total population of students and faculty.

“Minor” Project
Eighty percent of Rust College students, faculty, staff and other stakeholders strongly agree that the landscaping improvements to the entrance to the campus will improve the aesthetics of the campus. There will be increased institution marketing benefits because of the Home Depot “Retooll Your School” Project.

Vote now for Rust College! On June 15th, 11 schools will be announced, and will see their dream projects come to life.

Faculty Member Chosen as “Woman of Excellence”

The Tri State Defender has selected Dr. Sandra Vaughn to the exclusive circle of female professionals and leaders who have distinguished themselves by their remarkable civic contributions and career achievements. Through volumes of nominations, Dr. Vaughn has been selected for the Tri State Defender's Third Annual Women of Excellence Award.

Dr. Vaughn received her bachelor's degree from Wilberforce University in Wilberforce, Ohio and her Ph.D. in political science from Howard University. She completed her post-doctoral study in political science at the University of Michigan-Ann Arbor, and also attended law school and theological seminary. She has received numerous awards and honors throughout her career, including the 2008-2009 Rust College Exemplary Teacher Award, sponsored by the United Methodist Church. Most recently, she was selected for the 2009-2010 Mississippi Humanities Council Faculty of the Year Award.

Dr. Vaughn, a political science professor, joined the Rust College faculty in August 2006, and is coordinator of the Political Science department. She has one daughter who received her undergraduate degree from Stanford University and is now into her second year of medical school at the University of Washington in Seattle, Washington.

The Women of Excellence event is limited to a highly select group of leaders who steadfastly advance economic, political and educational progress for the African American community—leaders who are bound by a personal code of ethics that demand accountability and integrity; leaders who exercise self-control, demonstrate personal strength, and possess power as well as grandeur.

The ceremony will take place on Friday, April 30, 2010 at 3:30 p.m. at The Peabody Skyway, 149 Union Avenue, Memphis, Tennessee.

Registrar, Admissions Team Attend Conference

Rust College Admission Team attended the MACRAO (Mississippi Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers) 2010 Annual Meeting which was held at Lake Tiak O'Khata in Louisville, Mississippi, April 12-13, 2010.

The purpose of MACRAO is to contribute to the advancement of higher education in its fullest and broadest implications and to advance professionally the office or offices of Admissions Counseling, Admissions, Registration and Records in Mississippi institutions of postsecondary education.

There were sessions and roundtables on topics from "Cultivating Pathways to Access and Success" to "Making the Most of the Campus Visit".

"Our youth’s dreams must change from just going to a college to going to college and graduating,” said one of the conference attendees.

Rust College's team included Ms. Jo Ann Scott, Director of Enrollment Services; Ms. Melanee King and Mr. Thaddeus Jefferson, Admissions Counselors; and Mr. Clarence Smith, Registrar.
