Rust College New Student Orientation 2010
Rust College welcomed hundreds of new students to campus Saturday, August 14. The first day of New Student Orientation gave students and parents a chance to get a firsthand look at college life. Students attended the first Rites of Passage Ceremony and were able to enjoy lunch with their parents before being left to begin the next chapter of their lives and their education.
UNCF General Scholarship 2010/2011 Academic Year

Scholarship Value: up to $5000
Classifications: College Freshman, College Junior, College Senior, College Sophomore, Graduate Student
Minimum GPA: 2.5
Eligible Majors: Open
Eligible Schools: UNCF Institutes
Eligible Locations: Open
Application Deadline: Sunday, May 15, 2011

How to Apply: UNCF.org

If you are a student attending a UNCF member college or university, it is highly recommended that you also complete this UNCF GENERAL SCHOLARSHIP application. This application process nominates a UNCF student searching for scholarship assistance. Once a student completes the application, the information will be used to match you to many of the specific programs administered by UNCF for the 2010/11 Academic Year. The General application, however, does not apply to scholarship programs that require a separate application. To be considered for other scholarships through the Apply Online process, you must complete the online application for that scholarship. This application is for scholarships awarded during the 2010/11 academic year.

Freshman Student Receives Scholarship
100 Black Men of Marshall County present award to local student

The 100 Black Men of Marshall County held its annual scholarship banquet August 7th in Shaw Cafeteria at Rust College. Anthony Moore, a 2010 graduate of H.W. Byers High School, was the recipient of scholarship funds that he will use toward his education at Rust College.

An informal organization, the 100 Black Men of Marshall County began as a group of local men meeting once a week for breakfast at several churches in the area. Dr. Paul C. Lampley, Vice President of Academic Affairs at Rust College, says in 2004, the group decided to establish a scholarship fund for local students.

“The idea was for 100 men to contribute $100… meaning we would all-together raise $10,000 in scholarship funds,” said Dr. Lampley. The first year, they exceeded their goal by raising approximately $12,000, and were able to award four scholarships to area students. Since then, the group has awarded one to two scholarships per year.

Dr. Lampley, who is chair of the Education Outreach Committee of the 100 Black Men of Marshall County, says Anthony Moore was chosen as this year’s recipient because of his financial need and his ability to express his passion for continuing his education. Raised in a single-parent home, Moore received substantial support from his mother Betty, and that support, plus Moore’s dedication to his education, afforded him a high grade point average upon his graduation from H.W. Byers High School. Moore is expected to maintain an above average grade point average during his first year at Rust College.

“Anthony was very impressive during his interview,” said Dr. Lampley. “He showed a real interest in his education. He would have had to take out a loan to be able to attend school and the group wanted to give him an award that would substitute for the loan.” Moore was awarded a $2,000 scholarship—$1,000 per semester.

Moore is one of at least 235 new students enrolled at Rust College for the 2010-2011 academic year.
