Presentations:
February 12, 2021

Conference
(including Q&A):
February 19, 2021

Join us as we hold our annual conference as a one-day virtual event.

We invite proposals for oral presentations (15 minutes) or poster presentations (5–7 minutes) of your original research on any topic in any discipline.

Presentations should be pre-recorded and will be available during the conference and online after the conference concludes. When your proposal is accepted, we will offer tips for recording your presentation and instructions for uploading.

All student presenters will also participate in a virtual Q&A session on the day of the conference. Prizes will be awarded in multiple presentation categories. The conference will also offer virtual opening and closing sessions and a session in which students at two-year institutions can speak with representatives from four-year institutions.

Use the conference proposal form to propose your presentation. Contact your honors dean/director for more information.
